Gaw Van Male Active in International Law Association

Dave Gaw Attends LawPact Conference in Rome

NAPA, California—David B. Gaw, director, shareholder and co-founder of Gaw Van Male, counselors at law, recently attended a conference on international business law in Rome, Italy.

"Gaw Van Male (GVM) feels it is of utmost importance for our clients that we have international legal contacts," said Gaw. "For one example, our association with LawPact allows us to connect with attorneys around the world involved in the wine industry. This gives us the ability to network and assist our clients when they have distribution or other questions. We have a global world economy and our contacts help our clients."

LawPact is an international association and network of independent business law firms created to assist member firms in pursuing excellence in client service, the application of evolving technologies and to create a trans-national, juried referral panel to serve the global legal needs of member firm clients. Gaw serves as Vice President of the Association.

"We see a similarity in issues worldwide," said Gaw. "There is a growth in intellectual property law and water law. When we notice specific issues developing, we hire qualified attorneys to meet the expanding needs of our clients. We have a continual commitment to employing only high quality individuals and have been extremely happy with the caliber of well-educated and experienced attorneys who have joined our firm."

Gaw co-founded the law firm in 1972 and it has grown to be the largest law firm in Napa and Solano counties with 25 attorneys and 40 staff members.

"Our core values are personal service, community involvement, and a friendly and approachable manner," said Gaw. "We try to live those values while letting the community know that GVM has business, estate planning and international expertise; locals don't need to go anywhere else."

Dave Gaw speaks extensively throughout California and the nation on a variety of estate planning and administration topics. He practices estate planning and administration, elder law, succession planning and exit strategies.
